

St Michael & All Angels with St James

Assistant Director of Music

Music is very important to the worshipping life of St Michael's and we value our musical tradition and seek to maintain its high standard and heritage whilst continuing to develop and evolve.

The Parish of St Michael and all Angels

Now somewhat dwarfed by the office blocks of Surrey's 'mini-Manhattan', St Michael's is the most centrally located church in Croydon.

The parish includes a swathe of older residential streets around West Croydon Rail Station on London Road. To its south lies the Whitgift Centre (soon to be redeveloped by Westfield), a shopping mall named after an archbishop of Canterbury whose alms-house, schools and palace grace the town.

The church is close to the transport hubs of West and East Croydon, with their train, bus and tram routes with easy access to London Bridge and Victoria.

St Michael's Church

The church built in 1880-1 is a fine example of the later work of John Loughborough Pearson. This magnificent church, a Grade 1 listed building is by no means Pearson's largest church, but it appears much larger than its actual size. The red brick exterior is dignified, if a little forbidding.

The church is crowned with a lofty fleche cased in copper, which rises to a height of one hundred and twenty feet. The main entrance to the church is by the south porch located in the stump of what would have been the spire, which was not built due to lack of finance.

Inside, the church is faced with yellow London stock bricks and Bath stone dressings. At one hundred and fifty feet long, the nave boasting a vault of fifty-three feet, the church has an atmosphere of space and light.

Our Spiritual Life

Following the Anglo-Catholic tradition, Mass is celebrated every day and there are three Masses on Sunday.

The Sunday 08.00 Mass is said and is followed by a said 09.30 Mass with hymns. The 09.30 service is shorter and less formal than the main 11.00 Solemn Mass. Evensong & Benediction is sung on the 1st and 3rd Sundays of the month at 15.30.

The Choir

St Michael's has a voluntary adult choir comprising of 12 regular members, most with a strong background in church music. They are a confident and competent group serving our church through offering their ministry of music.

Principally through the work of Michael Fleming who established the choir we have today, though non-professional, it provides a cathedral and collegiate repertoire, and aims to do it to a comparable standard.

Guest singers augment the choir for major calendar events such as Christmas and Easter. The future of the choir is a going concern and the appointed person will be expected to work with the Director of Music to help recruit the choir and promote the musical life of the church.

There are two choral services, the first being the 11.00 Solemn Mass, and the second, Choral Evensong with Benediction, which is sung on the 1st and 3rd Sundays of the month at 15.30.

There is also a full programme of choral services during Advent, Christmas, Epiphany and Holy Week, as well as other occasional weekday feast days, with Michaelmas being our patronal festival.

Choir Rehearsals

There are no mid-week rehearsals unless there is a sung weekday evening Mass; such as Ash Wednesday, Maundy Thursday, Good Friday, Holy Saturday, Ascension Day or Corpus Christi.

The choir rehearse on Sunday before each of the choral services:

- 09.30
- 14.30

The Organs

The church is blessed with a particularly fine example of the work of the eminent Victorian organ builder, Henry (Father) Willis. His three-manual organ of 1882, in its impressive double organ case by Bodley, was enlarged by Noel Mander in 1955. This instrument provides an ideal vehicle for the performance and interpretation of organ music from all periods, as well as fulfilling its primary role in the accompaniment of the liturgy.

The church is also home to Andrew Scott's continuo organ - a 1998 Harrison & Harrison, three-stop instrument.

Over the years we have welcomed an array of British and international performers to our weekly recital series. The series director has recently retired and the recitals are presently being run in a smaller series, but we will be looking at the future recital provision, in which the Director of Music and Assistant Director of Music will be expected to contribute towards.

Schedule of services

The Assistant Director of Music (ADOM) works with the Director of Music (DOM) and Organ Scholar (OS) to provide music for all sung services.

The ADOM would be expected to:

- play the organ and accompany the choir for choral services;
- rehearse and direct the choir in the absence of, or as agreed with DOM;
- play the piano or organ for choir rehearsals;
- take an active role in the administration of the music library;
- take an active role in the encouragement and direction of the OS;
- play for the Sunday 09.30 mass in the absence of the OS;

- take a share of playing for the congregational services during choir holidays;
- help recruit the choir and promote the musical life of St Michael's;
- help administrate an organ recital series.

The ADOM will play a key role in rehearsing and directing the choir and would assume leadership of the music department in the absence of the DOM. Choir training and conducting skills are therefore essential.

The ADOM is expected to be available for the choral services during term time (including feast days) and assist with the congregational services during choir holidays.

With the agreement of the DOM, the ADOM can engage a suitable deputy to cover the schedule of services where necessary, and the same fee as would be paid to the ADOM would be applied. This position is flexible, and additional time away during term time is negotiable.

The ADOM will have free use of the church and its instruments for practise or private teaching so long as any such activity does not interfere with the normal daily life of the church, which must take precedent. Any regular teaching activity would need to be booked into the church diary, and the vicar's decision on any such activity is final.

The ADOM is given first refusal on funerals, the fee for which is currently £100. In the absence of the DOM, the ADOM will get first refusal on weddings, the fee for which is currently £100. An additional video fee is sometimes applicable for weddings.

Payment

The ADOM will be paid £65 per service, which also includes a pre-service rehearsal. The Sunday 9.30am service would be played for in lieu of not being present at the choir rehearsal and does not therefore carry a separate fee.

The DOM submits an invoice for services rendered at the end of each calendar month.

The Vicar and DOM review the fees annually.

Employment Status Tax

No part of any agreement with the appointed ADOM shall be deemed to constitute a contract of employment. This is a flexible, self-employed position and the ADOM would be expected to administrate their own accounts, submit their own tax return to the Inland Revenue and make provision for their own tax and national insurance contributions. A signed statement to this effect must be submitted to the Vicar.

Safeguarding

The ADOM will work at all times within the Safeguarding and Health and Safety Policies in place at St Michael's.

As our music scholarship holders could be under the age of 18, any position offered would be subject to a successful enhanced DBS check.

Review

The position is subject to a six-month trial period.

Notice Period

The agreement with the ADOM can be terminated either by the Vicar with the agreement of the PCC giving at least three months' notice to the ADOM, or by the ADOM giving at least three months' notice to the Vicar.

Application

For further information or to apply for this position, please send your CV and application form, along with a covering letter and statement of what you would bring to the role.
